Academic Merit

The academic achievement of the applicant based on their results in their relevant qualification which demonstrates the applicant’s ability or potential ability to undertake a Research Degree project to a high standard.

Relevant Research Experience

Experience in relevant research activities outside of a research training degree. These include but are not limited to; 6 or more weeks internship; technical assistant with supervision; ongoing research assistant with limited supervision or management of a small research team.

This information must be included in your curriculum vitae.

Research publications and creative works

Peer reviewed research publications and published creative works. The criterion is based on relevance to the proposed project; quality of journal; authorship; contribution; critical reviews of creative works.

Your curriculum vitae must include a bibliographic reference of (up to) your top five publications with your ORCID number. If a publication has been accepted by a publisher but not yet published, an acceptance letter from the publisher must be included. DO NOT provide copies of your publications. If you do not provide sufficient supporting documentation, your publications will not be taken into account.

Relevant work experience

Work experience within the past 10 years that is relevant to research in the field of the proposed research degree.

If you are using work experience as an entry qualification you must provide supporting documentation as detailed on your curriculum vitae. It is the applicant's responsibility to provide proof of their work experience.

Strategic Alignment

To determine the research topic is aligned with Victoria University's priority, emerging priority and accreditation fields of research. It is important to identify a supervisor that shares interest in your research topic. You must contact a supervisor and receive in-principle approval from them for your research project. In order to submit evidence of this approval, you will need to include the completed Prospective Supervisor form when you apply for a research degree.

Please ensure you review Step 3: Identify a priority Field of Research (FoR) code and supervisor.

You must select a Field of Research (FoR) code and submit a Prospective Supervisor form as part of your application.

Relative to Opportunity

Statements of opportunity or adversity will be considered in the assessment of your application. Please use the supporting statement box on the application form to provide details of anything that has impacted on your academic career or research performance to date.

Referees

Referees provide an independent assessment of a candidate's academic potential and abilities. Candidates should provide the name and contact details of referees who have first-hand experience of their research capacity. If you are basing your application on work experience, at least one of your referees must be able to comment on your relevant work experience. Family members will not be accepted as referees; nominated supervisors will only be considered if they have firsthand experience of an applicant's research experience (eg. supervised an applicant in a previous project, internship etc).

By providing Victoria University with contact details for your referees, you give permission for Victoria University to contact your referees to discuss your suitability for the degree and competitiveness for a stipend scholarship.

Selection Process

All RTP Stipend Scholarships are awarded via a competitive process as outlined in Victoria University's Higher Degree by Research Scholarship Procedure. Only those applications that are deemed eligible and have provided all supporting documentation will be considered.

The Moondani Balluk Ranking Panel will rank all applications it recommends as fundable and send this ranking to the Discipline Ranking Committee. The Discipline Ranking Committees rank eligible RTP stipend scholarship applications based on the Selection Criteria, which results in an Order of Merit list.

The University Ranking Committee reviews the Order of Merit lists to determine a University-wide Order of Merit to identify those applicants who will receive an offer of a stipend scholarship, and any conditions attached to an offer.

The final ranking and scholarship/award allocation is normally completed within two months of the closing date. All applicants will receive written notification of the result of their scholarship application by mid-December 2024.

Appeals

Appeals can only be lodged if an unsuccessful applicant believes there is a breach of process in the handling of their application. Appeals against the outcome of scholarship applications must be lodged in writing to dean.gradresearch@vu.edu.au within 10 University business days of the applicant being informed of the decision. Applicants must explain the basis of their appeal and provide relevant documentation and evidence to support the appeal. The Dean Graduate Research will undertake or arrange a review, if there is a conflict of interest, of the decision and a written outcome will be provided within 10 University business days of the date that the request was received by Victoria University. If there are any delays to the timeline for the outcome, the Dean Graduate Research will advise the applicant the reason for the delay and the date that they may receive an outcome of the review. The review is final and cannot be appealed within Victoria University
